

PAYMASTER'S EXTENSION MINING COMPANY STARTS OPERATIONS

With the re-opening of the many mining properties in this state, and the notice of formation of new companies, comes the announcement that the paymaster's Extension Mining company, of this city, is preparing to commence active development of their property.

Located about 75 miles north of Yuma, near the old Paymaster Mine, and approximately on the same lead, this property bids fair to become one of the best paying mines in this section of the west.

The old Paymaster mine requires little explanation, for it was shut down nearly thirty years ago by the owners who wanted to enjoy the profit of their rich find. And many millions of dollars were made from this property, and as the Paymaster's Extension is only a short distance from the old mine, it is to be presumed that the new company has really found the lead of the old mine which was lost by the former owners when it pinched out—and which they failed to re-locate.

Assays from the Paymaster's Extension show values running all the way from 15 to 80 per cent lead, with a liberal showing of silver, and in order to correctly ascertain just how deep the vein—which is more than 20 feet in width—will run, a contract has been let for the sinking of a three hundred foot shaft and work will commence immediately.

With this end in view, F. R. Maxwell, a mining engineer of note throughout the west, and who is promoting the new enterprise, left this morning for the property, accompanied by a crew of men who will commence preliminary work at once.

The capitalists who are interested in the new company, which has been recently incorporated with a capital stock of $300,000, include prominent mining and business men from Douglas, Bisbee and Miami, Ariz.; and the rumor is that very little of the stock will be placed on sale, as most of it has already been subscribed for.

Those interested in the company are: H. A. Williams, president; A. A. Goodwin, vice-president; A. W. S. Smith, treasurer; H. C. Kelley, secretary; F. R. Maxwell, of Douglas, promoter.

Yuma must not forget that, with the opening of the Fortuna mine, continued operations of the Texas & Arizona mining company in the Dome mountains, and the opening of this new company, that she will soon be taking her place among the mining centers of the state, as well as remaining a leader in the agricultural realm.

Moral: Let us all boost for Yuma. "Scoop."

JUDGE FOR YOURSELF

Which is Better—Try an Experiment or Profit by a Yuma Citizen's Experience.

Something new is an experiment. Must be proved to be as represented.

The statement of a manufacturer is not convincing proof of merit. But the endorsement of friends is.

Now supposing you had a bad back. A lame, weak or aching one. Would you experiment with it? You will read of many so-called cures.

Endorsed by strangers from far away places. It's different when the endorsement comes from home. Easy to prove local testimony. Read this Yuma case:

Mrs. Peter Aune, Fourth St., Yuma, says: "At times, my back ached terribly and I had pain across my hips. I was weak and had a heavy feeling across my loins, especially in the morning. Doan's Kidney Pills proved to be all that was claimed for them and soon cured me."

INFORMATION ABOUT THE 2 DESERT ROADS

R. S. Ross, of Tombstone, treasurer of Cochise county, and Louis Burgess of Bisbee, and their families arrived in Yuma this morning by automobile and will remain over until tomorrow to plan their trip west. They are in doubt whether to take the Niland or the Yuma-Holtville plank road, which under ordinary circumstances is much preferable, but just now there is a persistent rumor all along the line east of here that the planks are covered with drifts and even if this were true it is hard to see how the Niland road without planks, could be better.

Twenty cars went from Yuma to Holtville, 57 miles, several weeks ago, in about three hours, without mishap, and the writer is informed that the plank road is just as good now as it was then. Apparently the drawback to the plank road is getting off the planks; but, with good driving, there is very little necessity of that; and, even then but a matter of lifting a wheel back on the track. With two men in the party, the plank road is at all times best; but, if a woman alone were driving the experts say, "Take the Niland road, which is a little farther and slower, but everybody gets through."

SURPRISE PARTY FOR MABEL PRITCHETT

There was a delightful surprise party given for Mable Pritchett last evening at her home on Third street. The merry company amused themselves playing games and later refreshments were served. The party broke up at a late hour everyone thoroughly satisfied that they had a very enjoyable time. Miss Pritchett attended high school last winter and was one of its most popular members.

Environment is not everything to people who can rise above it.
